Therefore the chances of a fire breaking out are extremely small however, to further reduce this possibility here are some sensible precautions and other points of what to do in an emergency.

When you check into your room:

Learn where the exits are and locate at least two, by walking to each one, to help you to remember where they are situated. Locate the fire alarm points. Fire extinguisher on each floor. Please read carefully the map behind your entrance door.

If you discover a fire:

Call immediately front desk on extension "300". Do not panic and remain calm. Close all doors and switch off the air-conditioning to keep the fire from spreading out. If the fire is small or in its initial stage, use the nearest fire extinguisher to put it out. If the fire is out of control, stay away and leave the building if possible.

If you hear fire alarm:

Do not panic and stay alert for evacuation. Do not pack up your luggage, time is precious to save your life. Feel the door handle is hot, don't open. If cold, open slowly and be ready to close it again, if necessary. Exit if there is no smoke in the corridor. If it is too dark to see, keep close to the wall. If you are caught in a thick cloud of smoke, take short breaths and crawl to avoid it. Never use the elevators and remember to close all doors behind you.

If your exit is blocked:

Go back in your room, if possible and try to escape through the window or stay in order to get further instructions. In any case, remain calm with cool head. Help is on the way.

If you are trapped in your room:

Your room could be the safest place to be in, if you can't get to the stairwell, however: call immediately front desk extension "300". Be sure, you place wet towels, sheets or blankets under the door to keep the smoke out from entering into your room. Fill up the bathtub so you can quickly remoisten the wet clothes.
